I went to the kitchen to make a sandwich. Suddenly, there was a crack of thunder and a flash of lightning. All the lights went out. I reached into the refrigerator. It was so dark I wasn't sure what I grabbed. I got two slices of bread. Between them I put tuna, lettuce, and tomato. Then I poured a glass of milk. Mom and Dad came home. They were soaking wet. The lights came on. Mom said, "Alan, what are you eating?" In the dark I had made a cat food, cabbage, raw liver and jelly sandwich. And there in my glass was salad oil!

Sally's favorite food was sardines. Sally made a sardine sandwich every day. Her brother Joe said Sally was a sap for eating them. Sally took her sandwich out of the sack. How sad! The sandwich had been sat upon. "For goodness sakes!" Sally said. "I wanted a sandwich for lunch. Now it looks like sardine sauce."
